The Ultimate Coaching Guide 2020-11-29 if you want to help people learn from activities exercises or experiences this book is for you this book fills a gap it is the gap between doing an activity and learning from it plenty of books describe activities that are good for icebreaking for team building for project management or for cross cultural understanding etc a few of these books do give advice about reviewing or debriefing the activities and 90% of the times it reads here are some questions you can ask how's that for boring and/or limiting the result of such advice is that reviews are often dull and they dwell on what went wrong when reading they give off a feeling of discomfort but why is that well one of the reasons is because the same people speak up all the time and that bores and might even annoy the rest of the participants thus reviewing gets a bad name and people just want the review to finish as quickly as possible so that they can get on with the next activity this is a rare book for two reasons it is about reviewing how many books have you come across on this subject it is about reviewing actively which makes it not just rare but unique with the help of this book you can make reviews at least as engaging as the activities you are reviewing no more discomfort no more unwanted silences no more superficial reviews just engaging and practical ways to help people learn from experience how does that sound for a change

Active Reviewing 2015-09-21 co active leadership reduces the distinction between leaders and followers and expands the meaning of leadership creating an atmosphere where everyone can develop and exercise a range of leadership skills top down one dimensional leadership models are hopelessly outmoded in today's rapidly changing world and they waste the leadership ability that is present throughout an organization not just at the top in this visionary book karen and henry kimsey house provide a model that harnesses the possibility of many rather than relying on the power of one they begin with a new definition of leadership itself leaders are those who are responsible for their world which of course we all are or should be so everyone is a leader co active leadership is a deeply collaborative approach but the first of its five dimensions focuses on the individual leading from within we must be fully present and live lives of integrity openheartedness and self awareness if we are to make the kind of conscious creative choices co active leadership demands each of the remaining four dimensions work together holistically depending on the situation you may lead from the front offering guidance and inspiration from behind supporting and encouraging others from beside partnering with and supporting other members of your team or from the field drawing on insights and wisdom available beyond the rational mind co active leadership is the only model to celebrate and honor these different expressions of leadership it invites all of us to share our expertise and allows collaborative solutions to emerge that would never have been possible otherwise
